

Student Voices: Using My College Plan Transcript

Narrator: Student Voices: Using My College Plan. Speaker: Kristal Roman, UC Berkeley.

Kristal: So basically as you're applying to colleges, it can get really messy, right? You may have trouble like remembering the different universities that you've applied to. And this tool can really help you log and document the details surrounding the applications that you are intending to put in or the applications that you've already submitted, right? And so some of these features of the college applications section of my college plan tool offers are that it provides you with a quick glance at the name of each institution that you've applied to, right? The type of application that you put in, the status of your application, the due date for your application, and then the submission date. So it's a lot of details that are hard to keep track of internally, and it's really helpful to have those all logged into one space, right, to look over and figure out what are the next steps basically,

Narrator: CaliforniaColleges.edu. Discover, plan, launch. Learn more at CaliforniaColleges.edu/resourcehub/

End of: Student voices: Using My College Plan

Video Duration: 01:03