Narrator: Student Voices: How Diego used CaliforniaColleges.edu.

Diego: My name is Diego Munoz. I am currently attending Mt. San Jacinto Community College and I am studying psychology and my career goal is to be a children and family therapist. Getting financial aid was extremely stressful, but with CaliforniaColleges and everything that they have, it made it a lot easier, especially with the tools that they provided while I was in high school.

Narrator: CaliforniaColleges.edu is shown highlighting financial aid lessons, such as how to prepare to apply for FAFSA or CADAA. A to-do list is also provided to students.

Diego: The most important things from those checklists were what sort of necessary documents that I needed, sort of like the basic things like social security number and stuff like that. The things that I were, or I was terrified, even though it was like super small, I was still just, it was completely new to me as a high schooler. I had no idea what sort of things to expect. I was definitely feeling more at ease, having my parents walk me through the process, and then of course, having CaliforniaColleges, like using their website and everything that they had to offer was amazing and incredible too.

Narrator: The website is shown highlighting different aspects available, such as My Plan, College, Career, and Financial Aid,

Diego: Along with the resources that my high school offered, I felt like a weight was lifted off my shoulders just, it was so, like just daunting to do.
